Winchell Tip Cost Investors Millions, Says Senate Witness

Stock Exchange Official Tells Of 'Turmoil'

WASHINGTON, March 4 (AP)—A demand for curbs on stock market tipsters arose today after the Senate Banking Committee heard that one tipster, Walter Winchell, cost buyers more than two million dollars in about an hour.

President Edward T. McCormick of the American Stock Exchange, testified that on another occasion a television tip by Winchell threw the market into turmoil.

After the commentator's TV program on Jan. 9, McCormick said, an avalanche of orders descended on the exchange for stock in Pantepec Oil Co., a Venezuelan firm.

McCormick said that except for special measures taken by the exchange, those who bought on the Winchell tip and held on to the stock would now be in the hole by $8 a share.

The committee had hardly opened the second day of its "friendly" study of stock markets before Sen. Bush (R-Conn.) was calling for steps to "put an end to this irresponsible business of giving out market tips."

Sen. Fulbright (D-Ark.), committee chairman, described the tips and the market fluctuations they caused in some cases as "a very serious matter."

"This is one of the biggest headaches I have ever had," agreed McCormick. However, he said the big problem was how to draw a line on market information. He pointed out that nearly all newspapers supply financial news. He said that Winchell gave market tips almost weekly, and added that he didn't know of any instance where Winchell had misstated facts. He declared Winchell had said that substantially the same information he gave about Pantepec Oil had been carried in newspapers.

In a statement in New York, Winchell said in part:

"No one has ever challenged the accuracy of my report on the company in question. In fact, the financial pages of the more responsible newspapers in the country have confirmed it."

"The fact that the report resulted in so many orders is of no interest to me. The fact that it is independent source confirms my wide circulation. I hope, will be a matter of notice for my begrudging competitors."

McCormick was today's leadoff witness in an inquiry aimed at analyzing the stock market in the light of a 18-month boom in prices.

Fulbright asked him whether it wasn't true that investors who bought Amurex Oil shares on a tip broadcast by Winchell in 1953 "lost more than two million dollars in a little more than an hour."

"There's no doubt about it," McCormick replied.

Icy Highways Slow Driving In Mountains

COOLER temperatures returned to the Poconos yesterday with fog, spots of rain, and icy roads making driving dangerous in the mountain area.

A dense fog prevailed throughout the day with the mercury around 32 most of the day, it was reported by weather observer Harry Greene at Mount Pocono. He said there had been no more rain after three-fourths of an inch fell Thursday night and added there was very little wind. Temperatures fell during the night, however.

Traffic was forced to proceed very carefully in that sector, state police reported as the result of icy roads. Rain and fog prevailed in most of the other surrounding areas of the Stroudsburgs.

State police at Fern Ridge reported: "We have wet roads. It's raining and foggy, too." Some fog was said to be located in the mountains near Milford, while Lehighton troopers said visibility was "bad" there due to rain and fog.

Local observer Pierre Lake announced the high for the day had been only 35 at 8 a.m. after the recent high temperatures. It was down to 32 late last night and he added "a fine mist was falling."

U. N. Council Urges Egypt, Israel To Stop Fighting

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y., March 4 (AP)—The U. N. Security Council urged Israel and Egypt today to stop the fighting on their border in the southern Palestine desert.

It invited Maj. Gen. Edson L. M. Burns, a Canadian who heads the Palestine truce mission, to fly here at once and report on who was to blame for the bloody clashes at Gaza and what can be done to stop them.

All the Council nations except Russia, which was silent, deplored the armed clash that killed 39 Egyptians and 8 Israelis last Monday night.

French Delegate Henri Hoppenot said it resulted from an "onslaught by Israel against Egypt."

The call for peace on the Gaza of Turkey, Council president, for front was made by Selim Sarper, the sentiments of the 10 delegates who spoke. The Council decided to this month, who said it represented the sentiments of the 10 delegates who spoke. The Council decided to recess until Gen. Burns can get here.

In debate, U. S. Delegate James J. Wadsworth called the Gaza incident "indefensible from any standpoint."

Gov. Leader To Seek Dam Construction

HARRISBURG, March 4 (AP)—Agreement was reached between governors of Pennsylvania and New Jersey today on proposed construction of a large dam and a general plan for development of Delaware River water resources.

Gov. George M. Leader, following a 2½ hour conference here with New Jersey's Gov. Robert B. Meyner, said he will press for passage of legislation to implement Pennsylvania's part in the program.

New Jersey already has legislation on the books authorizing that state to participate in construction of a dam proposed for Wallpack Bend, above Stroudsburg at Bushkill.

Pennsylvania must pass similar enabling legislation by July 1—a deadline set by the New Jersey legislature in 1953, to await Pennsylvania action.

Leader said an administration bill, a companion measure to New Jersey's, will go on Monday to the House of Representatives—where Democrats hold a majority.

A similar bill sponsored by Sen. Joseph J. Yosko (D-Northampton) was introduced in the GOP-controlled Senate last week. Republican Senators are giving it a careful going-over. The House bill will have the same purpose as Yosko's, Leader said.

In a joint statement, Govs. Leader and Meyner said they intended proceeding in their long range water resource development program with or without the participation of New York state.

They invited New York to join in the program, however.

Philadelphia's Mayor Joseph S. Clark, who also attended, hailed the agreement as "the end of the long water war between Pennsylvania and New Jersey." Other officials of both states sat in on the party.

Delaware River water resources have been a subject of study and controversy for many years. The Interstate Commission on the Delaware Basin drew up intricate plans for dams in the upper reaches of the river but the program has not been adopted.

The Wallpack Bend impounding dam and a proposed diversion dam near Yardley, Bucks County, are a part of the old Incoel program.

The Leader-Meyner statement listed these aims in a long-range conservation and development program for the Delaware:

Assure great low flow in dry periods; make certain there is enough water for industrial and domestic purposes during drought; maintain a sufficient underground water level; decrease pollution in the river; prevent intrusion of salt water from the lower reaches of the river and protect existing oyster beds.

Gunman Killed After Slaying Garage Owner

GREEN RIVER, Wyo., March 4 (AP)—A shotgun blast cut down a fleeing gunman in a quiet residential section here late today ending a 12-hour crime spree in which he killed one man, wounded three others and held hostage a 17-year-old youth.

The gunman, Melvin Henry Gray, 27, died after he was struck in the chest by a charge from a shotgun fired by W. G. Snerman, special agent for the Union Pacific Railroad.

Gray, sought since early this morning when he killed a Kemmerer, Wyo., garage owner, Albert Maffei, 85 miles northwest of here, was chased to cover after he had abandoned a getaway car and his hostage, Bobby Duriant, early this afternoon.

Transport Union Cancels Strike

WASHINGTON, March 4 (AP)—The National Mediation Board said tonight the CIO Transport Workers Union has agreed to cancel a scheduled strike Sunday against the Pennsylvania Railroad pending negotiation.

Pay Hikes For Armed Forces, Postal Service Approved By Committees, Sent To House Floor

WASHINGTON, March 4 (AP)—Pay raises for the armed forces and postal service were approved today by House committees.

Increases of between 6 and 25 per cent for career servicemen were okayed unanimously by an Armed Services subcommittee. The House is expected to adopt the measure, representing 735 million dollars in extra pay a year, next week.

The House Post Office Committee voted an average 7½ per cent increase for half a million Post Office employees, at an annual cost of 150 million dollars, the minimum increase is 6 per cent.

The military pay raise bill, which President Eisenhower has termed essential to keep trained men in uniform, provides an average 11.9 per cent increase for two million servicemen.

Enlisted men with over two years' service and officers with more than three years' duty would get boosts of from $7.80 to $83.46 a month. In general, others are not affected because the bill is designed to provide more incentive for experienced men to stay in uniform.

The measure increases special monthly pay for hazardous air and submarine duty, establishes a new dislocation allowance of one month's basic pay for service families making a permanent change of station and ups the daily travel allowance from $9 to $12.

Three Brothers And Sister Found Slain In Cabin Home

MANCHESTER, Ky., March 4 (AP)—Three brothers and their sister, ranging in age from 25 to 39, were shot and killed one by one at their cabin home in mountainous eastern Clay County yesterday.

Each was shot in the face and left dead in grotesque sitting positions. Officers could find no evidence to explain the strange crime.

State Delays Formal Action On Jointure

HARRISBURG, March 4 (AP)—The State Council of Education today put off action until May 6 on an application of four Northampton County school districts to merge into one joint school district.

Dr. Carl Seifert, deputy superintendent of Public Instruction, said the application was referred to the Northampton County board of school directors for a "factual report and recommendations" to be presented at the council's next meeting.

"At the council hearing there were so many differences of opinion presented by both sides that the board thought it advisable to refer the matter back to the county," Seifert explained.

The proposed jointure involves Portland and East Bangor boroughs and Upper Mount Bethel and Washington Twp.

They are part of an eight-district group which originally proposed a larger jointure.

The others are Bangor and Roset to boroughs, Lower Mount Bethel Twp. and Lower Mount Bethel independent district.

Senate Poll Favors Bet Referendum

HARRISBURG, March 4 (AP)—An informal poll of a Senate committee showed today a majority of members favoring bringing a horse race betting referendum bill to the floor for a vote.

At least nine of the 16 members of the Senate Law and Order Committee indicated they would go along with a proposal to ask the state's voters whether they want legalized betting in Pennsylvania.

The committee is currently studying the measure which is co-sponsored by its chairman G. Robert Watkins (R-Delaware).

Watkins has put off a committee vote on the measure until at least next week because of the pressure of other Senate committee business.

Watkins has put off a committee vote lessened the possibility of getting the referendum question on the May 17 primary election ballot.

Ask School Boycott

IRVING, Tex., March 4 (AP)—Striking teachers, feeding with the school board of this suburban community near Dallas, today asked mothers to keep their children away from schools now run by volunteers and substitutes.

The committee is currently studying the measure which is co-sponsored by its chairman G. Robert Watkins (R-Delaware).

Watkins has put off a committee vote on the measure until at least next week because of the pressure of other Senate committee business.

Watkins has put off a committee vote lessened the possibility of getting the referendum question on the May 17 primary election ballot.

The bill as introduced in the Senate would add the question to the November ballot but Watkins had expressed the hope of moving it up to May.

The measure merely asks the voters whether they want legalized horse race betting in Pennsylvania. It would require additional legislation to set up regulations for the sport should voters approve.

Long a controversial issue in the Commonwealth, horse race betting has been opposed by some church groups and reportedly by out-of-state racing interests.

Watkins said Pennsylvania could pick up as much as 35 million dollars a year in revenue that now (Continued on Page Ten)

Red Gunboats Shell One Of Islands

TAIPEI, Formosa, Saturday, March 5 (AP)—There was speculation in press circles today that the Nationalists might be abandoning some or all of the Matsus, island outposts extending within three and a half miles of the Red China mainland off the port of Foochow.

The speculation was entirely unofficial and, of course, without public confirmation. Security considerations presumably would preclude public disclosure even if such was true.

The speculation was stirred by reports yesterday of a Red gunboat attack on Kaoteng, an island in the group so close to the mainland that it could almost be blown out of the water by Red land guns if they chose.

Attention was further focused on the Matsus, and the offshore island situation as a whole, by a high level conference of U. S. and Nationalist defense officials in Taipei.

The Nationalists claimed they repelled an attack on Kaoteng yesterday by 40 Red gunboats and motorized junks — vessels which very well could have been a supply convoy bound for Foochow which got off course in foggy weather.

If the Nationalists do quit the Matsus, it would not be too surprising. The Nationalist press has been full of assertions that neither the Matsus nor Quemoy, guarding the approaches to Amoy, would be abandoned without a fight.

This might be true of the estimated 40,000-man garrison on Quemoy. But insofar as the estimated 5,000-man garrison in the Matsus is concerned, the assertions are strongly reminiscent of those which preceded the pullout from Nanchinan and the Tachens. These pullouts were made 120 to 200 miles north of the Matsus.

The Defense Ministry said the Red fleet struck out of the fog in mid-afternoon at tiny Kaoteng island but was driven off by Nationalist shore batteries.

The ministry made no mention of damage to the attacking craft or to the defense installations on the island.

Nor did the ministry speculate on whether the armed fleet was a raiding party or attempting an invasion of Kaoteng, a few miles north of the main island of Matsus.

The Nationalist-held Matsus group is 20 miles off the Chinese mainland, on the natural invasion route to Formosa.

Nearly 200 miles to the south, Red shore batteries fired eight shells at little Quemoy, which blocks the entrance to the Communist port of Amoy. No damage or return fire was reported.

While the mid-afternoon ship-to-shore battle was under way high United States naval and army officers were conferring in Taipei with Nationalists in talks designed to put teeth into the U.S.-Nationalist mutual defense pact.

Original plans for visiting American admirals to visit the Matsus and Quemoy yesterday were canceled.

Four Women Injured As Auto Skids

FOUR NEW YORK State women suffered injuries late last night when their car skidded on an icy stretch of highway at Pocono Lake.

All were admitted to General Hospital for treatment of deep lacerations and other injuries. Two of the women were believed to have suffered head injuries.

The accident occurred about 10:30 p. m., when the car driven by Barbara C. Munder, Tuckahoe, N. Y., headed west on Route 940, skidded on a curve in front of the Catholic Church. It went off the highway, hit a large rock head-on, then continued into another rock.

The injured were taken to the office of Dr. James Kitchen by Mr. and Mrs. Paul Hoffman and Warren Madden. After receiving first aid, they were transported to General Hospital in the Tobyhanna Township ambulance driven by Eddie Judge.

Admitted to the hospital were Miss Munder, Barbara Courtney, also of Tuckahoe; Marsha Hirschfield, Bronxville; and Mrs. Carol Roe, Garth Road, N. Y. A fifth occupant, Jean S. Madden, of Tuckahoe, was not injured.

Flowers Need Sleep So Lighted Field To Move

MEMPHIS, Tenn., March 4 (AP)—A municipal athletic field next door to some greenhouses here will be moved so the florist's flowers can get the right amount of sunlight.

Gene Buffa complained to the Park Commission that his flowers were so confused by the field's 1,500-watt floodlights they were staying up half the night and blooming too early.

Flowers can be bloomed out of season by controlled lighting. But when lighting is not controlled, Buffa said, they either bloom on short stems, which destroy their value, or too early for the right market.

The commission, agreeing it was not nice to confuse flowers, ordered the field switched to another site.

Lenten Meditation

By Lyn Genung
East Stroudsburg RDI

LENT IS A 40-day plan loaded with opportunity. If we knew what could be gained through Lent, we would soon know the meaning of Lent.

It is admittedly essential that big league ball clubs must first give themselves to the rigors and denials of spring training, if they are to achieve that goal for which they aim: the pennant. Yet, no less a pre-requisite is the "giving-up" season of Lent important to the Christian, if he is to achieve his aim—that of being able to appreciate what Easter means to him.

Like our Blessed Lord, we will take 40 days as a time of opportunity to condition ourselves "spiritually" by denying ourselves "bodily." Unlike our Blessed Lord, there will be no parallel of severity between our sacrifices this Lent and those of His, many Lenten ago.

Our Blessed Lord imposed a severe Lent upon Himself, because He knew a severe contest was in schedule. He knew that nothing short of total denial could humanly condition Him for the approaching contest, because He planned a total sacrifice—awaiting Him was a fierce trial before a Roman Pilate; a brutal flogging; a thorned-crown to be jammed upon His head. He was to drag a timbered cross to His place of execution, and there be nailed to that cross. He, the Only Begotten Son of God, was to die, and He was to Resurrect Himself. He did all of that.

Christ's Lent, therefore, was to prepare Himself for His own crucifixion, that we might gain an eternal life through it. He was the purchaser—the liberator. We are the purchased—the liberated.

Our Lent is to prepare ourselves so as to be able—to the extent of our sacrifices—to but merely "appreciate" what Good Friday gained for us on Easter Sunday!

Dog Saves Boy's Life

POTTSTOWN, March 4 (AP)—A Great Dane puppy was credited today with saving the life of his 12-year-old master when the boy was attacked by a bull on a farm at nearby Schwenksville.

Douglas L. Ott was attempting yesterday to corral the bull who had been out in the fields all winter. The boy's father, Godfrey Ott, a polo victim, didn't know his son was going to try to bring the bull in.

As the boy turned to get a stick, the bull charged at his back, gored him and knocked him down. Then the animal started tossing his victim into the air with his horns.

After the bull tossed the boy into the air five times, the father said, the dog came running, leaped to the animal's back and bit him several times. The terrified bull ran off and young Douglas limped home.

The boy was reported in serious condition at the Pottstown Hospital but out of danger. He suffered leg, chest and back injuries.

A HOME OF THEIR OWN

From the time they were married Marion and Jim aspired to own their own home, but Jim was a struggling young postal clerk and Marion gave up her job when the babies started to arrive. During the years they clung to their dream even when it seemed an impossibility. They moved from apartment to duplex to rented house and always the unused house plans moved with them.

Marion and Jim were not bitter, for while their material dreams were postponed, others were realized. They raised three bouncing girls and one boy to maturity with a serenity not all parents know. There was a church-going family and their youngsters took to the good way of life like ducks take to water. There were the customary children's diseases but no casualties on the spiritual front.

Now Jim and Marion are established in that long awaited home of their own. The children are grown and gone, but they do not feel that fulfillment has come too late. In calm assurance of a job well done they take delight in their reward—a happy, contented life of accomplishment.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

End This 'Outrage'

A full year has gone by since that day when four Puerto Rican fanatics cut loose with guns in our House of Representatives at Washington.

Five congressmen were wounded. It's a miracle no one was killed.

And yet, a full year after this show of fanaticism brought an immediate and universal demand that adequate action be taken to give our legislators protection, not a single thing has been done.

Congress still has the same old police force—a corps of political appointees instead of professionals, who know what to do and are physically fit to do it.

The House last year passed legislation to replace its Capitol police with a security force under civil service, but the measure was put on ice by the Senate

It might be noted in passing that this may have worked out this way because the members of the House knew at first-hand what it was like when the bullets were flying around, while the untrifled Senate just heard that it happened—to somebody else.

Congressman Bentley, one of the two most seriously wounded representatives a year ago, calls the failure to do anything an "outrage." We agree with him 100 per cent.

He and the four other wounded congressmen again have introduced legislation to take politics out of the picking of Capitol police.

This bill undoubtedly will pass in the House again, where personal memories, only a year-old, still are fresh. We hope the senators, too, finally will act.

Minds Of Men

Two Americans have returned from jail in Communist China with bitter comments about America and with high praise for the Reds who imprisoned them.

They say they believe that we are the aggressors, that we used germ warfare and that the Communists are the champions of a peaceful world.

It would seem as if this is a classic case of brain-washing, the technique of hammering away at a person's beliefs and convictions until he—or she—no longer can separate truth from fiction, fact from fancy.

We can't read the minds of these two Americans, of course, so we don't know what beliefs they had before they were jailed, or, indeed, before they went to China.

It can be assumed, in any event, that they are special cases. Brainwashing requires a lot of time and patience. It has to be subtle or it doesn't work.

You can bludgeon a man into saying he's your buddy, but he'll thumb his nose at you the minute you are out of sight.

In brainwashing, the purpose is to make them believe sincerely what you want them to believe, and it takes hard work.

We must not deduce from these two Americans that everybody behind the Iron Curtain is that way.

On the other hand, let these two Americans serve as warnings that the minds of men are not made of steel.

George Sokolsky Says . . .

Everybody These Days Is A Statesman, And All Of Them Seem To Know All The Answers

An old friend, bumped into me but hard the other night at a wedding. We had not seen each other for years. Sam is a salesman.

If you buy it, he sells it. Just now, he is selling television sets, refrigerators, etc., on the installment plan. If you don't have money, buy anyhow. Why should you not have what everybody has? Is that Democracy?

So with such a start, I asked Sam, "Is business good?"

"Why should it not be good," Sam asked, always starting an argument. "If the Russians and the Chinese will only scare people, business will be good. As long as we live on a war economy, people will buy. They got the money."

"Sam, you've become a statesman," I said.

"Who isn't?" Sam asked. "Nowadays everybody is a statesman. Also he knows about India and Pakistan, Iran and Iraq, Matsui and Quemoi; also who got bumped off in Moscow. But nobody tells him why. Everybody knows so much these days, that there ain't no use telling him anything."

"So I say to a customer, how can you live without a television set if you want to live at all? So the customer says, 'Truly, if you sit down in the night time and have a look at television, you don't worry about the hydrogen bomb come. How do you know it won't come?"

"So I tell the customer, he should buy a big screen television set and he can not only hear the experts but see them with maps and charts and pointers and even monkeys playing on the piano. The monkey playing the piano is a change of pace from the monotony of the news."

"Tell me, Sam," I asked, "does the customer ever ask you what makes an expert an expert?"

"You still ask foolish questions after all these years," Sam replied. "Would a guy be hired by C. B. S. and N. B. C. and the State Department and General Motors, if he didn't know what he was talking about? Also is it good business to spoil the customer's appetite for an expert? So she tells me Hotskiotz is the biggest authority in the whole world and he and not Dulles should be Secretary of State."

"So I say if you buy a television set from me, you can see the great commentator, Hotskiotz, every night from Monday to Friday, same time same station, just before you want to go to sleep. His voice is like a phono-baritone. So clear, so beautiful, so wonderful, he stands in front of your face and tells you what Khrushchev said to Malenkov before he gave him the gate. If you buy quick, you can even get in on the next act when Khrushchev clips off Malenkov's head after not-flying Hotskiotz to stand around, something's going to happen soon. Sign here and the credit company will do the rest."

"I should spoil my business by telling the customer that the reason why everybody talks problems is because nobody solves any. The same problems are always around like kibitzers telling us what we should do to Formosa, why France can't keep a government, why Eisenhower likes Black Angus cows better than Republicans, why Nixon is sent traveling so he won't make enemies in Washington."

"Let the customer be a statesman, too. Why not? What harm can it do? So when she talks about Pakistan, it sounds like she is talking about Minnesota. Does it hurt anybody? Is she worse than the real, genuine statesmen who don't know on Thursday what they said on Tuesday?"

"As long as the customers buy, we all live. Is it worse than in the Depression when a customer was a novelty? I ask you."

"I'll be seeing you, Sam," I said to close the conversation.

"Maybe you could change your 1937 ice-box for a new model with a freezing compartment and a place for eggs? Because you're a fashionable, do you have to be old-fashioned? Look! For you I will make a special price, but don't tell nobody. I'll give you the relative's price."

"I'll see you soon, Sam," I said as I plowed into a stuffed derma.

However, one thing that puzzles me is the elimination of Fulton Lewis' column, which you effected two years ago.

I don't think there is any commentator in the country who is more revealing and sincere than Mr. Lewis, and I would honestly appreciate your comment as to why his column has been dropped from your newspaper.

Very truly yours,
B. J. WESLINICH.

Friend Horace:

At the meeting of Chemical Co., No. 1, Stroudsburg Fire Department, Wednesday night, the boys expressed their keen appreciation of the editorial published in The Record following the disastrous explosion and fire at the Fetherman and other properties on Dreher Ave. The sentiment expressed in connection with their services left a deep impression in them.

They asked me to express their appreciation to you. The boys are always ready to serve no matter time, place or prevailing conditions. Thanks for your fine sentiments.

Very sincerely yours,

I rather hesitate to write this letter because I'm quite sure that a part of Mr. Phillips' humorous column is going to be deleted from your good publication.

I am not a year-round resident of this area but I have been spending some time here for many years and have noticed the definite improvement in your paper since the war.

Union Merger May Improve Labor In Political Campaign

Washington—Political experts in Washington do not believe that the merger of the CIO and AFL will mean the advent of a labor party into the United States political scene despite the forecasts of some industrialists.

While they rule out the labor party idea, however, these politicians freely concede that the merger of the nation's two great labor organizations will strengthen organized labor's influence in elections.

They reason that the bringing of the major unions under one leadership will eliminate much political disagreement within their ranks and give them a united front to present in election campaigns.

However, Washington politicians believe that labor leaders want to keep the present two-party system and feel that they can bring their weight to bear with greater success this way than through a third party.

Same Old Line—Russia's call for the destruction of all nuclear weapons was received at the State department as the same old Red game—"propaganda."

Washington officials took the attitude that the Soviet proposal did not advance one bit from the previous Russian pronouncements regarding disarmament.

The view at the State department is that the Soviet suggestion is just "more propaganda," which gives no assurance that the Reds would agree to competent international authority to oversee that the controls are carried out.

The United States wants atomic controls providing there is an international body set up with the power to see that the controls are carried out.

Room Wanted—Venerable Senator Walter F. George (D., Georgia), chairman of the Senate foreign relations committee, has a major complaint. He thinks the committee should have more spacious quarters. Since the committee is one of the Senate's oldest units, it was entitled to a hearing room in the Capitol building. Now it is stuck there.

Situated near the Senate restaurant, the room is small compared with the quarters occupied by other major committees in the Senate Office building. Only a handful of spectators can be accommodated, and newsmen have to squeeze behind George's chair to get to their table.

There is one major dissent to George's complaint. Most committee hearings deal with such high policy questions that they are either closed to the press and public or they attract a limited audience.

If some headline event is on tap, the committee can always use the huge Caucus room in the Senate Office building. That's where the Army-McCarthy hearings were held.

Merchant Marine—Shipping experts in government and out say they are "appalled" by the state of the United States Merchant Marine—and they are urging both Congress and the administration to do something about it, offering subsidies if necessary.

Accustomed to being first among the free world nations in so many different activities, the United States now finds itself 12th in shipbuilding. According to the latest official reports, only 99,568 tons of merchant shipping were "on the ways" in United States shipyards during the last three months of 1954.

Among the free world nations that were well ahead of the United States are Britain, the Netherlands, France, Sweden, Japan, Italy, Norway, Spain, Denmark and Belgium and, experts point out, no figures are available for Soviet countries.

When Ben Franklin was publishing his newspaper, a subscriber's death was recorded by error in the obituary column. The subscriber, very much alive, was not amused. In fact, he raised the roof.

Defense Department Will Say It's Not Selling $1 Planes

Boomerang—The Defense Department wants the world to know that it is not selling combat planes for $1 apiece.

The Department will announce that officially.

Reason for this unusual statement is a flood of requests for such purchases as a result of the world-wide publicity given the sale of four fighter planes at $1 each to Costa Rica to resist a recent armed "invasion" from neighboring Nicaragua. The numerous inquiries have come both from within the U. S. and abroad.

Four Midwestern university students sent $1 bills and asked that the planes be flown to them forthwith. They claimed to be licensed pilots and all they needed to take to the air was these bargain ships.

What really got under the skin of Pentagon authorities was an irate demand from several prominent members of Congress that the South Koreans and Chinese Nationalists be treated as "generously" as Costa Rica. The legislators wanted to know why U. S. planes aren't being sold to the two Pacific allies at $1 apiece.

Defense officials say this story is unfounded; that actually the four propeller-type fighter planes were sold to Costa Rica at cost, and that the amount was not $1 but "several hundred thousand dollars."

That's their story and it will be announced officially in a formal statement.

Baffled—Dr. Arthur Burns, head of the President's Council of Economic Advisers, is a renowned authority in his field, but frankly admits often being puzzled by the ways of consumers.

He disclosed this bafflement during a closed meeting of the Joint Congressional Committee on the Economic Report. Senator Joe O'Mahoney (D., Wyo.) asked Burns if he knew why the rate of savings fell last year. Burns said he has been unable to ascertain the cause.

Following in this interesting discussion:

O'Mahoney: "Have you any information to explain why consumers reduced their rate of savings in 1954? Do you think it may have been because other sources of income disappeared, or because consumers decided there would not be war and felt free to increase their spending?"

Burns: "I have no information that I would regard as authoritative on this matter. I'm often mystified as to why consumers act as they do."

Note—The Treasury has reported to the Joint Committee that the total value of insurance policies in the hands of veterans on January 1 was $42,784,412,443. The Treasury further informed the Committee, "This does not represent the government's potential liability. Some policies will be permitted to lapse. On those which are continued in force, the future premiums, interest and invested reserves amounting to $6,472,101,000 should cover the normal mortality risk. The reserves are invested in government securities."

Madame Wellington Koo, wife of the Nationalist Ambassador, has a noted collection of jewels. Her favorite is a necklace, which she designed, consisting of three strands of pearls, rubies and green jade. Madame Koo is also one of the best dancers in the diplomatic circle, and at private parties entertains friends by doing the jitterbug and hula. She and Sir Percy Spender, Australian Ambassador, scored a big hit with a jitterbug at a Georgetown party. . . . Mrs. Gwen Calfritz, who would like to be known as the Capital's "hostess with the mostest," will celebrate St. Patrick's Day in an unusual manner. She is giving a big dinner in honor of the British Ambassador. . . . Mrs. Matthew Ridgway, wife of the Army Chief of Staff, is being acclaimed by Washington milliners as the "hottiest" woman in the city. Her chapeaux are numerous and striking. Latest of Mrs. Ridgway's creations, which she wore at a fashion show, was a dramatic white beaver with a large undulating bein.

Remember when you could go into almost any wooded area in the Fall and pick up a burlap bag full of Chestnuts—enveloped in prickly burrs, and how excellent they were roasted, boiled, or as part of stuffing for Turkey?

This year marks the 51st anniversary of the end of an era in the American forests for the Chestnut. It was back in 1904, according to Pennsylvania forestry and historical authorities, that Chestnut blight struck forests in this country.

Not all the Chestnut trees were wiped out in one fell-swoop. We can remember gathering Chestnuts around here some 30 to 35 years ago, but there were plenty of evidences the blight was moving relentlessly through one of the choicest wild nut-producing trees in the nation.

Forest after forest in the ensuing years contained more dead and dying Chestnuts than living trees. Even some cultivated Chestnut parks in this state were stricken and died.

Stark and storm battered as the years went by the ghosts of these fine trees stood out in the hills. The tall, dead, white trees were like spectres against the green or color of other forest growths. Some are still standing in various parts of the county.

Chestnut wood, we recall, made excellent finish or trim for homes and was even used for cabinet work. Its bold grain and dark finish were very attractive. Chestnut posts were rated tops for fences, clothes posts, etc.

Young trees which sprang up—and some still are springing up here and there—from roots of parent trees would grow several years and sometimes bear fruit but they were not immune to the blight and most of them died.

Foresters say the strange fact is that young trees found today—when uprooted—are found to be growing from a Chestnut.

The big question is—Has that Chestnut lain there all these years before it developed its growth or have they come in from some unknown source. Here is one of the mysteries of nature.

When Chestnut blight was first discovered, there was no such thing as plant quarantine laws, but it was this disaster to a wonderful tree, bearing a wonderful fruit that brought such laws to the books—too late to save the American Chestnut.

responsible for such endeavors rarely strive to analyze their work. They're too busy creating it. . . . John Wayne has been a star for a quarter-century and his films have grossed over $200,000. He has stated: "I'm not an actor. I'm a reactor. I just do what seems natural in a situation. All I have are sincerity and simplicity."

There cannot be stardom without diligence. One of the hardest working actresses is Joan Crawford. Inexplicably, fatigue compels her to speak with a Dixie drawl. . . . Joan poles in her autobiography that a director once stopped her in the middle of a line of dialog. She had just declared: "I'm the new woman repositah." The director corrected: "Repositah, Miss Crawford, reporter."

The weary star vainly sought to abandon the you-all accent several times and finally shouted in desperation: "I can't say repositah but I can say newspaperish woman!"

Although Hollywood manufactures dreams, it is generally a ruthless business for the dream-makers. The lure of stardom may be irresistible but the competition among performers is almost savage. . . . Hollywood's history, however, is brightened by numerous heartwarming incidents. The following is one of the classics: A frightened William Holden gained his initial major role in "Golden Boy." During the early days of shooting, the jittery Holden seemed on the verge of being fired. Everybody lost patience with him, except the star of the movie: Barbara Stanwyck. One afternoon she ordered: "Bill, get into my dressing room. We're going to rehearse and rehearse." And so they rehearsed and rehearsed. The movie made Holden a star. And Barbara's compassion demonstrates why she is not just a star—but a darling.

They are enchanted people who are, nevertheless, subject to the joys and agonies common to ordinary mortals. . . . There is Ava Gardner—whose glowing charms almost appear to be made out of moonlight. She exists, however, in a private shadow world. Strangely, Ava is aware of her sadness and accepts it. She has said: "I'm entitled to make my own mistakes and pay for them."

A clearer insight into her emotional depths can be gained by this self-appraisal: "I'm a plain, simple girl off the farm, and I've never pretended to be anything else. All I want out of life is a good husband and some children."

Ironically, Ava has been able to obtain everything from life except what she considers the ultimate accomplishment: An enduring marriage and motherhood.

There is a certain grandeur about superior talent. And not many are gifted with more impressive acting gifts than Spencer Tracy and Katharine Hepburn. . . . They were destined to become very good friends. But when they were introduced—shortly before their initial co-starring movie—they measured each other like competing champions. Said Katharine archly: "I'm afraid I'm a bit too tall for you."

Tracy grinned: "Don't worry, I'll soon cut you down to my size."

The artistically-inclined are likely to detect profound meanings in acting techniques. Those

Red Cross Directors Set Pace For Giving In Annual Drive

92 Per Cent Have Already Contributed

FIRST CONTRIBUTORS to the 1955 American Red Cross Campaign for Members and Funds were the directors of the Monroe County Chapter. At last night's meeting of the directors and executive committee at Red Cross headquarters, it was announced that 92 per cent of the 40 directors had already made their personal contribution to the amount of $340.

The 1955 campaign in Monroe County now in its first week, is for the sum of $16,196 to support the vital services of the Red Cross. The blood donor program, home service to servicemen, veterans and their dependents, disaster services, nursing and safety services, the volunteer services and the Junior Red Cross, all are dependent on the success of the 1955 Fund Campaign.

Fred W. Rhodes, 1955 campaign chairman, sent word that every district and township in the county had been organized with captains and workers, and the campaign itself was under way.

Detlef A. Hansen, chapter chairman, presided at the meeting which had a large attendance of directors.

Simultaneously with the drive, the regular services of the local chapter are continuing, reports given at the meeting indicated. The volunteer service report for February, given by Mrs. LeRoy J. Koehler, chairman, showed that 75 volunteers had given more than 812 hours during the month.

The blood bank took the services of 37 volunteers for 217 hours, he reported, and the hospital required 46 volunteers for 553 hours. In motor service, three volunteers gave 24 hours in three trips totaling 290 miles.

In a further breakdown of volunteer hours, the report showed that 9 administration aides had given 25 hours; 14 canteen workers had given 81 hours; 42 Gray Ladies had given more than 497 hours; four motor service volunteers had given 40 hours; 6 nurse's aides had given 93 hours; four staff aides, 27 hours; 8 registered nurses had contributed 40 hours and 2 doctors had given 7 hours in the service of the Red Cross.

LeRoy Mikels as chairman of special gifts announced the directors' percentage and gifts. The response of the directors indicated they realized the importance of supporting the drive with funds as well as service, he said.

Mikels also praised the work of the sponsors of last month's successful blood donor day at St. Matthew's Catholic Church and announced that the Granges of the county were sponsoring the March visit.

Mrs. Ida Kunkle, executive secretary, reported on the cases involving service men and their dependents during the month.

U. S. Would Need Forces At Home After Attack

WASHINGTON, March 4 (AP)—Civil Defense Administrator Val Peterson told Congress today it might be "months or years" before America could send ground invasion forces overseas after being surprised by an atomic attack.

He said the nation would need all the military and police forces at home, to keep order, while they awaited the opportunity to mount an expeditionary force.

Peterson endorsed plans to expand the reserves and proposed the training of youths who could double as part time police.

Scott Named To Senate Committee

HARRISBURG, March 4 (AP)—A special Senate subcommittee was named today to revise a proposed plan to create a $10,000,000 state fund to assist municipalities in building plants to attract new industry.

Sen. William J. Lane (D-Washington) heads the unit whose specific task will be to draft an amendment to provide that interest-free loans for construction of such plants be made only to districts declared surplus labor areas by the U. S. Labor Department.

Other members of the subcommittee include Sens. Hugh J. McManamin (D - Lackawanna) and William Z. Scott (R-Carbon).

Under the overall plan, the State Commerce Department would make loans to municipal authorities from a $10,000,000 revolving fund.

Couple Left Homeless By Bangor Fire

BANGOR—Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Kirkland became the fourth family in this area to be made homeless by fire since Jan. 1 when a double stucco dwelling on N. Ninth St., Bangor, was damaged by fire yesterday.

The blaze was said to have been caused by defective wiring and resulted in an estimated loss of $2,000.

The three Bangor fire companies were able to confine the flames to the top floor of the three-story structure. The other half of the building, occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Bennett, was also considerably damaged.

Wrong Word Changes Meaning Of Statement

A TYPOGRAPHICAL error in yesterday's edition of The Daily Record resulted in a false reconstruction of a statement made by Raymond P. Harding, supervising principal of Stroud Township schools.

Paragraph 22 of the story, on page two, quoted Harding as saying: "We wanted to have good MORALS for both the teacher and the child in the schools."

Although Harding, like all good educators, is interested in a very basic sense in the moral fiber and judgment of his pupils and his staff, the sense of the statement was changed by the error.

The word should have been MORALE.

Butler Pleads For Party Unity

PITTSFIELD, Mass., March 4 (AP)—Democratic National Chairman Paul M. Butler made a plea for party unity at a Berkshire County Jefferson-Jackson Day dinner last night.

Butler told the Democratic diners that, "The party has got to revitalize the entire organization at every level."

"There's got to be closer cooperation between organizations including state, county and national committees."

"The Democrats have got to support nominated candidates. It makes no difference if they're nominated in a town, city, county, state or national caucus. Anyone who calls himself a Democrat is duty bound to support the nominated candidate."

James Gould Candidate For Renomination

JAMES A. GOULD, of Effort, said yesterday he intends to seek reelection as prothonotary and clerk of courts.

Gould will attempt to win the Republican nomination in May. He will file the necessary petition next week.

The prothonotary is the second Republican to announce for a county office. First was George L. Smith, running for nomination as register and recorder.

Gould was elected to his present post four years ago, after serving as an elections judge in Chestnut-hill Township.

The 42-year-old prothonotary operates Pine Hill Farms at Effort, selling milk and dairy products.

Large Tract At Lake To Be Developed

NEWFOUNDLAND—Plans for a recreational development on Lake Wallenpaupack were revealed here with the announcement of the completion of negotiations for the sale of a 546-acre tract of land at Ledgedale.

The land, the last remaining tract to be sold by the Pennsylvania Power and Light Co. and also the largest intact parcel ever to be disposed of along Lake Wallenpaupack, is located in Wayne County on a peninsula formed by the Wallenpaupack River, Lake Wallenpaupack and the Five-Mile Creek.

Ledgedale is located four miles due north of here, at the headwaters of Lake Wallenpaupack.

W. A. Arneith, one of the four men involved in the transaction, said that plans for the development will be "rather novel." He said the group will sell tracts of land for the development of summer cottages and will at the same time construct a community house, boat dock, tennis courts, a golf course for which 150 acres have been set aside—and playgrounds.

Cottage owners will become members of the property owners' association and will have full rights to the usage of the community-sponsored facilities, Arneith said.

The new corporation, which is now seeking a charter to operate the colony plan, next week will take over offices in the large house located on the tract. The group estimates that complete remodeling of the building as a community center will be completed by the summer of 1956.

Construction of other facilities at the resort site will begin almost immediately. Two sample cottages will be built and lots will be placed on sale for future construction and development.

Joining in the venture with Arneith, who has operated Fisher's Pool and Cottages near Lansdale for the past 20 years, are Franklin C. Koehler, Sellersville, who operates a jewelry store in Lansdale; Vernon D. Platt, Treves, who operates Summerton Springs, a Bucks County recreational area at Feasterville on the outskirts of Philadelphia; and Roy A. Schaffer, Schwenksville plumbing contractor.

The unofficial service publication, the Army-Navy-Air Force Journal, predicted that Gruenther would be brought to the Pentagon in August or perhaps sooner to replace Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway as Army chief of staff.

The plan then would be to send Collins, former Army chief and a combat commander in Europe in World War II, to the North Atlantic Treaty Organization command.

Ridgway is due to retire in August. Collins' current regular job is American representative on the NATO military committee and the standing group, with headquarters in Washington. But he was given still another, temporary job by President Eisenhower several months ago as a "trouble shooter" in Indochina.

At the same time, McIntosh said Welfare Secretary Harry Shapiro named Frederick Jacobs, an administrative assistant, to succeed him in the Selingsgrove post.

McIntosh told a newsman he was resigning for reasons of health from the post he has held for 15 years.

Neighbor's Visit Saves Four Lives

SCRANTON, Pa., March 4 (AP)—A visit by a neighbor saved the lives of four persons today, police said. Mrs. Susie Collum, 46, went to call at the home of Mrs. Dorothy Carter, 46, a block from the Collum home.

When Mrs. Collum entered the second-floor Carter apartment she found Mrs. Carter, her two sons, Edward, 11, and Ronald, 6, and Salvatore Riccardo, 25, Dunmore, overcome by illuminating gas fumes. Mrs. Collum opened all windows and doors and then collapsed. As she fell occupants of another apartment heard the thud on the floor and rushed to investigate. All five victims were admitted to State hospital, where doctors revived them and reported their condition "fair."

Construction of other facilities at the resort site will begin almost immediately. Two sample cottages will be built and lots will be placed on sale for future construction and development.

Joining in the venture with Arneith, who has operated Fisher's Pool and Cottages near Lansdale for the past 20 years, are Franklin C. Koehler, Sellersville, who operates a jewelry store in Lansdale; Vernon D. Platt, Treves, who operates Summerton Springs, a Bucks County recreational area at Feasterville on the outskirts of Philadelphia; and Roy A. Schaffer, Schwenksville plumbing contractor.

The unofficial service publication, the Army-Navy-Air Force Journal, predicted that Gruenther would be brought to the Pentagon in August or perhaps sooner to replace Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway as Army chief of staff.

The plan then would be to send Collins, former Army chief and a combat commander in Europe in World War II, to the North Atlantic Treaty Organization command.

Ridgway is due to retire in August. Collins' current regular job is American representative on the NATO military committee and the standing group, with headquarters in Washington. But he was given still another, temporary job by President Eisenhower several months ago as a "trouble shooter" in Indochina.

At the same time, McIntosh said Welfare Secretary Harry Shapiro named Frederick Jacobs, an administrative assistant, to succeed him in the Selingsgrove post.

McIntosh told a newsman he was resigning for reasons of health from the post he has held for 15 years.

Papers Filed In $39,500 Settlement

FOUR DEEDS were recorded yesterday at the office of recorder Floyd Bokz in the county courthouse.

A deed was filed based on the settlement of $39,500 to Louise Brandy Delaware Water Gap, from the Delaware River Joint Toll Bridge Commission. The figure had been agreed on at a December, 1954 court hearing for the Halfway Hotel and annex, which were torn down when the new bridge was constructed.

Robert A. George, Kregerville, purchased a tract of land from Maggie Berger, a widow, Pen Argyl. The land is in Eldred Township.

William Arnt, Smithfield Township, sold a building and lot to Mr. and Mrs. W. Vincent Henry, East Stroudsburg. The property is on Broadhead Ave., East Stroudsburg.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Small and Mr. and Mrs. Curt Miller, all of Stroudsburg, have acquired land in Stroud Township through the first National Bank of Stroudsburg. The bank was executor and trustee of the will of the late Emma Huston, who died Nov. 25, 1946.

The complaint says the home was advertised as new and modern and that they later learned the water supply for drinking and other purposes was from a deep well on the premises. This was claimed to be of good taste and quality by the defendants but is said to have a high sulphur content, smell and taste of sulphur or rotten eggs, according to the suit.

The plaintiffs allege they were deceived and misled by false and fraudulent misrepresentation and would not have bought the land had the true taste and quality of the water been known.

The suit alleges the Hamilton couple was induced into refraining from making further inquiries about the water after being given a sample of good tasting and apparently wholesome water which defendants said came from the well.

Hamilton Twp. Couple Files $8,000 Suit

A HAMILTON Township couple seeks to recover $8,000 and interest in connection with a real estate purchase in a suit filed at the office of court clerk James Gould yesterday. The suit alleges false and fraudulent claims about the taste and quality of water on the land purchased.

The trespass action was filed by Russell Mervine in behalf of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Brenkert. The defendants are Mr. and Mrs. Walter F. Aemisseger, Baldwin, L. I., N. Y.

The plaintiffs are seeking $8,000 and interest since July 14, 1954. They allege that the true market value of the purchased property should have been $8,000 due, the suit sets forth, to the "unpalatable taste of the water." They are said to have paid $16,000.

The complaint says the home was advertised as new and modern and that they later learned the water supply for drinking and other purposes was from a deep well on the premises. This was claimed to be of good taste and quality by the defendants but is said to have a high sulphur content, smell and taste of sulphur or rotten eggs, according to the suit.

The plaintiffs allege they were deceived and misled by false and fraudulent misrepresentation and would not have bought the land had the true taste and quality of the water been known.

The suit alleges the Hamilton couple was induced into refraining from making further inquiries about the water after being given a sample of good tasting and apparently wholesome water which defendants said came from the well.

Les Drake To Call Meeting Of Association To Discuss Truck Route Around Borough

LESLIE C. DRAKE, secretary of the Progressive Businessmen's Association said yesterday he is calling a meeting of members of that organization next week to consider a "truck route" skirting Stroudsburg.

"Any bypass for Route 611 around Stroudsburg that can be called a thru-way would do harm to every business establishment in town," Drake said.

He added: "It would bring us one step closer to a suburban shopping center. It takes no expert to see now that the parking situation and the Saturday night closing are both steps in that direction. Experience has shown that suburban shopping centers are promoted and established by introducing discount houses and staying open every night. A merchant can spend money and invest continually following the crowd and the confusion."

"I am in favor of a truck route that would skirt the town somewhere near the borough line, preferably from the Seventh St. Bridge to a point on the curve above Repp's Cabins with intersection constructed that traffic must stop to get on the proposed route. Such a route would relieve the situation and do no harm. Stroudsburg needs more passenger traffic and more parking facilities."

"I am going to call a meeting of the Progressive Businessmen's Association next week to consider such a route. I

Just Between Us

—By Bobby Westbrook

It may be that the music popular during our salad days was particularly good. More likely, however, the people of our age have now reached the point where they're able to select the songs to be played, either as sponsors or as program directors.

Naturally enough, they select songs that were being played when they were having the times of their lives. Whatever the explanation, there is a revival of the songs of our youth. Our youngsters may out-do us in the lyrics of "Make Yourself Comfortable," but we can really shine in "Melancholy Baby" or "Bottom Up Your Overcoat."

There is a select band of people who enjoy music for its own sake, and know why they're enjoying it, but for most of us music is so bound up with emotions that we listen with the pleasure of with distaste depending on whether that song reminds us of the night we were the belles of the ball or the night we weren't invited and heard it faint and far away from our lonely room. Quite apart from whether it's good music or not.

Which is certainly a long-winded introduction to what I started to tell you. The choir at the Stroudsburg Methodist Church this Sunday is singing one of the church anthems written by Don Gardner, and Don Gardner is the man from Portland who also wrote "All I Want for Christmas Is My Two Front Teeth." And he was the man who was in Rev. Roger Stinson's Sunday School class at Portland, way back in 1928.

And it was the date that started me thinking about old music.

THE Wyckoff SHOPPER

Some of you may have noticed the sign which recently made its appearance on a number of our Wyckoff cash registers.

"A smile is a fortune," it reads. "You can't buy it. You can't sell it. You can't steal it. . . . And it's no good to anyone until it's given away."

This is true, of course. You know it and I know it, but maybe it's a good thing to be reminded once in awhile. It's only too true that there are dozens of times each day when we stir our foreheads into a frown that is totally unnecessary . . . and dozens of times a day when we could smile and lighten our own hearts as well as the hearts of those around us, but just don't bother.

At least two of our Wyckoff employees have taken the sign seriously. Stephen Ertle and Claude Miller of our contract department have actually set it to music — Steve handling the melody, and Claude the lyrics. It's cute too — gay and bright and liting. We've heard it played by Ernie Michel-felder on our store organ, and it always makes us smile . . . it's that light-hearted. Somehow I hope this particular smile will actually prove a fortune for the boys — in two ways.

What'll happen next at Wyckoff? As soon as one project gets nicely under way, I begin asking myself this because we're always going in for some new service that our customers will appreciate and enjoy. That's why I'm looking forward so excitedly to Monday, and the new Music Kindergarten based upon the very popular Piano Sessions, endorsed by Fred Waring. I haven't met Wallace Hornbrook, the gifted young man who will serve as director, but I'm told he's terrific in his field, and that we can guarantee pleasure as well as instruction to the little folks fortunate enough to be enrolled for the ten-week course. Another thing I know — the three books used in the course are just as adorable as the kiddies themselves are bound to be. I can hardly wait!

Planning an Easter party? Then snatch up a few favors now in the form of bunnies, newly arrived in our candy department. Some of them are of a sparkly, foamy material, and have a stem that will anchor them securely in a cake or centerpiece. Others are of soft, plushy pipe cleaner construction. They're as Easterly and amusing as can be. As Carol Reed might say, "If you're in a party mood this spring, have a HOPPY!"

Salvation Army Trainees To Visit Region

BRIGADIER James Hepburn, divisional commander of the Salvation Army in Northeastern Pennsylvania, announced yesterday at the officers' council in Scranton that Col. Albert Pepper, principal of the Salvation Army Training College in New York, has decided to try something different for the cadets' 10-day training period.

Previously, these young students have been assigned to groups and sent to a certain location for the 10-day period. This year the principal has suggested that these young people be sent to a division and each day do visitation in a different city and conduct an evangelistic service each night at the corps in that city.

Brigadier Hepburn announced that a group will be coming into northeastern Pennsylvania during April. The corps in East Stroudsburg will be visited by this group the last weekend of their spiritual campaign.

Capt. Charles Baker, of the local Citadel, was personally interested in this announcement. Cadet Charles McNally, his cousin, is in the present session of training in New York.

His father, Major Charles McNally, who commanded many corps in this area, including Carbonate, where he had a large young people's band, died last year. Mrs. McNally is now in charge of the Ladies Home League work in New Jersey. His brother, Capt. Robert McNally, is in charge of the large Salvation Army Corps in Hartford, Conn.

Cadet McNally will be the 10th commissioned officer in our family when he is commissioned in June, Capt. Baker said.

'Man' Topic Of Lesson

MAN'S GOD-GIVEN dominion over fear, disease, and discord will be brought out at Christian Science services Sunday, when the lesson sermon is entitled "Man."

Scriptural selections will include the following from Psalms (8:4, 6): "What is man, that thou art mindful of him? and the son of man, that thou visitest him? . . . Thou madest him to have dominion over the works of thy hands; thou hast put all things under his feet."

From "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" the following passage will be among those read: "The enslavement of man is not legitimate. It will cease when man enters into his heritage of freedom, his God-given dominion over the material senses. Mortals will some day assert their freedom in the name of Almighty God."

The Golden Text is from Ecclesiastes (7:29): "Lo, this only have I found, that God hath made man upright."

Services will be held at 11 a. m. at First Church of Christ Scientist, Stroudsburg.

RILEY

By JIM RILEY
Sports Editor

ONE OF THE largest crowds in the history of basketball at East Stroudsburg State Teachers College should be on hand to watch the high flying Warriors tangle with West Chester, in the biggest of big court clashes as far as the local school is concerned. The people of Stroudsburg and East Stroudsburg have adopted the ESSTC cage machine once again for the first time since Ray Welsh departed from the local college.

The team should be adopted by the people in this area, as it is the best to come along in many years. At the present time it is riding atop an eight-game winning streak and has finished on the right side of the final count in 10 of its last 12 contests. The charges of Coach Jerry Palaia are driving for 10 straight and they must win tonight to make their dreams come true.

ESSTC plays home against Wilkes College next Wednesday, but tonight's encounter is against ESSTC's most arch rival — West Chester. These two schools usually play a home-and-home series each season, but this year the Rams requested release from the first date so they could play a game in Philadelphia's Convention Hall. I believe the Warriors felt sort of put out about the initial postponement and are doubly determined to sink the Rams.

Everyone has been talking about Charley German, the former Whitehall High center who is now drawing rave notices as a freshman member of the ESSTC squad. Now the people of this area have a fine opportunity to see the high scoring center in action. High school play in this region is completed and athletic fans can very easily take in the remaining two ESSTC contests. It's the best basketball squad we've witnessed in this neck of the woods for many years.

German has scored 334 points in 15 games, or an average of 22.3 per contest. Three seniors will be playing their final encounter against West Chester. The trio is made up of George Heidenreich, Ray Kaseman and Nick Gatto. Heidenreich has tallied 249 points in 14 battles for a 17.8 average, while Kaseman has come up with 207 markers in 15 outings for a 13.8 per centage. Denny Sullivan, another freshman, is averaging 13 and Wilmont Smith, a junior, and other starter, has an average of nine counters a ball game.

In addition those attending tonight's tussle will see one of the best rebounders in the business in Walt "Moose" Bjorn, another sophomore. Walt is the number six man on the club at the present time, but sees plenty of action in each contest. Gatto and Jack Burke will also undoubtedly be inserted into tonight's encounter as the Warriors go all out to land their ninth straight nod and 11th of the current campaign.

The Palamians have lost five times this season, but three of them came in as many contests at the beginning of the current campaign. This edition of the Normal Hill basketball squad has several outstanding individual performers, but the key to the club's success is the fine teamwork exhibited in each of the games this season, especially during the past month. It doesn't appear to matter who does the scoring—just so the ball is dunked into the hoop by somebody.

ESSTC's success on the basketball court isn't an overnight development, but rather the fruits of weeks and months of hard work, both on the practice court and under actual game conditions. The play of the current ESSTC cage machine has warmed the hearts of the student body up on Normal Hill and most of the students have decided to remain on campus for this afternoon's wrestling match and tonight's long awaited basketball encounter.

Area basketball fans who remember when German teamed with Tom Lukish to make Whitehall High a cage power, will thrill to the vast improvement in the big boy's play. He's graduated to one of the finest small college basketball stars in the state, after playing in Lukish's shadow most of the time in high school. Charley is playing brilliant basketball at the present time and this modest campaigner and the rest of his mates are deserving of the chance to play before a capacity house tonight.

ESSTC Cagers Hope To Continue Win Streak Tonight

West Chester To Present Opposition

ONE OF the largest crowds in the history of the Normal Hill gymnasium is expected to be on hand tonight when East Stroudsburg State Teachers College goes in search of its ninth straight basketball win and 11th of the season against arch rival West Chester. It will be the first and only meeting of the campaign between these two foes.

WEST CHESTER, playing one of the toughest court schedules ever undertaken by a Pennsylvania State Teachers College, will bring a record of nine victories and 10 defeats to town and will feature one of the best clubs to play on the ESSTC hardwood this season.

ESSTC will counter with a team that has compiled the longest winning streak of any area team in many years, running up successive victories over Kutztown, Paterson, Montclair, Panzer, Trenton, Lock Haven, Cheyney and Kutztown in that order. Prior to the streak they had beaten Trenton and Cheyney before bowing to Millersville and Panzer. The Warriors opened the present campaign with three straight defeats.

Coach Jerry Palaia announced last night that he would stick with his usual starting lineup of Denny Sullivan and Ray Kaseman at the forward berths and high scoring Charley German, ex-Whitehall star, at center. George Heidenreich, rounding out a first season, will combine with Wilmont Smith at the guard berths.

Walter "Moose" Bjorn will head the first line substitutes and is expected to see plenty of action tonight. Other subs will be Nick Gatto, Jack Burke, Lee Hill, Tom Spillane and Ray Bussolari.

West Chester, featuring a Pennsylvania State Teachers College Conference record of three wins and the same number of defeats, will counter with Wally Edman and Ron Chlachere at the forward posts and six foot, six inch Jim Carr at center. The visiting guards, both little campaigners will be Jim Rich and Dick Huebner.

ESSTC will be in quest of its sixth conference win as compared to two setbacks. The only setbacks in conference play have been inflicted by Millersville, league champion, while victories include two over Kutztown, a pair over Cheyney and one over Lock Haven.

West Chester will feature a fast breaking offense, good strength on the backboards and a tight zone defense. The Rams are anxious to even their mark at 10 wins and 10 setbacks.

The Warriors, who have bettered the 100 marks four times this season, are determined to keep their winning streak rolling.

Today's preliminary tussle will put the ESSTC junior varsity against Kleeckner's Rockets at 7:15 p.m., while the main event moves on stage at 8:30 p.m.

ESSTC completes its campaign next Wednesday with Wilkes College providing the opposition on the Normal Hill court.

Teachers To Swim Adelphi

SWIMMERS from East Stroudsburg State Teachers College will attempt to wind up the 1955 campaign on a winning note today when they oppose Adelphi College, Garden City, Long Island.

The meet, listed for the Adelphi pool, is scheduled to get underway at 2 p.m.

ESSTC has won from Brooklyn Poly this season but has lost to Cortland and Long Island University. The Warriors are hopeful of matching their wins and defeats today.

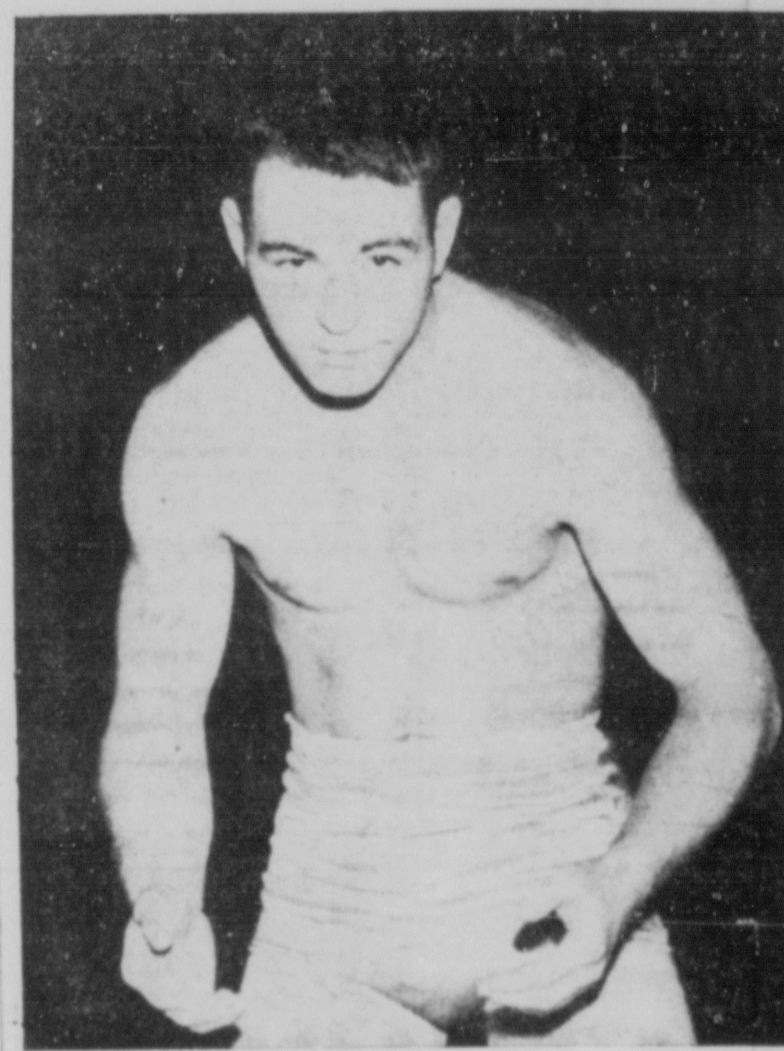

Coach Frank Grimm is expected to stick with the same lineup that has carried the bulk of the load thus far this season for the Warriors.

Named Head Coach

BUFFALO, N. Y., March 4 (AP)—Dick Offenhamer, freshman football coach and instructor in physical education at Colgate since 1947, today was named head coach of football at the University of Buffalo.

A fifth battle between the two clubs will take place next Wednesday, on the Stroudsburg High range, at 7 p.m.

The Onawa club is made up of Stroudsburg High students.

Warriors To Wrestle Against West Chester's Strong Squad

EAST STROUDSBURG State Teachers College wrestlers will take part in one of the biggest matches of the season today when they oppose a strong band of West Chester grapplers. The program to be held at West Chester, is listed for 2:30 p.m.

Lake Harmony Rallies To Sink Gray's

Tobyhanna Township High School. Gry's Chevrolet exploded for 30 points in the second period event, and enjoyed a 13-point lead at one time. The advantage remained at 10 points in the final stanza, that is until Gover drove in for four straight field goals and turned three of them into three-point plays.

The losing contingent was forced to play virtually the entire last period without Jim Frailey, its high scorer, who produced 23 points in the contest.

Lake Harmony led 20-14 at the end of the first period and 32-29 at the halfway mark.

Gray's squad shot into a 59-49 advantage at the three-quarter mark, only to see the advantage ripped to pieces by Gover and company in the home stretch.

Both teams accounted for 29 field goals, but Lake Harmony won by sinking 18 of 24 foul shots. Gray's Chevrolet converted 15 of 24 charity tosses.

Lake Harmony battles Barrett in the second of two games here tonight. The first tussle will pit Johnson's Diner against Williams Pharmacy, at 7:15 p.m.

Vejar Earns Split Nod

NEW YORK, March 4 (AP)—Energetic young Chico Vejar tonight hustled his way to a split 10-round decision over 32-year-old Billy Graham in a nationally telecast bout at Madison Square Garden.

Vejar weighed 152, Graham 148. Judges Jack Gordon (5-4-1) and Bert Grant (6-4) voted for the 23-year-old college outlier from Stamford, Conn. Referee Al Berl cast his ballot for Graham by 5-4-1. The AP had Vejar the winner, 6-3-1.

It was Graham's 125th fight and the first time in his career that he has lost three straight. He said before the fight that he might "pack it in" if he lost to Vejar.

Dressen Toying With Idea Of Shifting Yost From Third Base To Outfield For Senators

By Will Grimsley
By The Associated Press

SOMETIMES it's wise to tamper and sometimes it isn't, major league managers found out Friday as the first week of baseball training drew near a close.

At Orlando, Fla., "Chuck" Dressen, manager of the Washington Senators, was in an experimental mood. He said he was toying with the idea of turning veteran third baseman Eddie Yost into an outfielder.

But at Miami Beach, Fla., manager Paul Richards of the Baltimore Orioles decided to leave well enough alone in the case of pitcher Duane Pillette's "sinker-ball" motion.

"It not wise to change the motion of a fellow who has been around as long as Pillette," Richards said. "It's let him pitch his normal, natural way."

A few signings here and there and the renewal of a word war between those interborough rivals, Leo Durocher of the Giants and Walt Alton of the Brooklyn Dodgers, furnished additional spark for the day.

Alton, a mild-mannered man not given to outbursts, let his pique show when he read that Durocher had said from Arizona that the Dodgers would be in trouble if they lost any one of Jackie Robinson, Pee Wee Reese or Roy Campanella.

"The Giants would be in worse trouble if they lost any one of their regulars," Alton shot back sharply. "If everything else was favorable we still could win by losing one of ours."

Jim Finigan, highly rated young third baseman, finally signed his 1955 contract with the Kansas City Athletics at West Palm Beach, leaving only Forrest Jacobs on the Athletics' unsigned list. Finigan was believed to have received between $9,000 and $10,000.

At Tucson, Ralph Kiner, the former National Leaguer, was as happy and enthusiastic as a rookie and Manager Al Lopez said: "He should be of great help to us."

High School Scheduling Takes Place

STROUDSBURG High School this week began setting up its program of scheduling for the 1955-56 school year.

Actual conferences on scheduling of classes and subjects will take place the week of March 21.

Principal Alfred H. Munson said yesterday, however, that daily conferences by groups have been carried out this week. At these meetings the students are addressed by members of the faculty on the subjects in their special fields.

Among the instructors talking to students this week were James Hantjis, commercial department; Mahlon Serfass, modern languages; Mary Hall on homemaking and Albert Cross on vocational agriculture. Lillian Stark will talk with eighth grade pupils next week on Latin courses offered at the school.

Another part of the overall program—testing for aptitudes and special fields of interest—will be carried out gradually during the month. Some of the tests have already been given.

The eighth grade, for example, has had the occupation aptitude test as well as aptitude tests in algebra and foreign languages. These tests provide school officials and teachers with an idea of the student's interest and abilities in specific fields.

The occupation aptitude test was administered for the second time this week to high school students. Temperament scale tests are another important part of the complete testing program provided under the guidance of assistant principal Samuel Wells.

On Monday, March 21 the morning class schedule will be rearranged to make way for the special conferences with teachers. Classes will begin promptly at 8:30 a. m. and continue on regular schedule to 11:15. The half-hour period from 11:15 to 11:45 will be devoted to conferences.

Parents will be invited to confer with teachers on their children's schedules on Tuesday, March 22, at night, Munson said.

Cancer Society To Sponsor Poster Contest

THE MONROE County unit of the American Cancer Society will sponsor a poster contest during April.

The poster competition replaces an essay contest previously announced by the unit.

All students in Monroe County senior high schools are eligible to enter. Details of the contest have been given to supervising principals in all eight of the schools.

Mrs. Robert Miller, captain of the society's 1955 fund-raising drive, said last night that three prizes will be offered on the local level. These will be a $20 first place award, $15 for second prize and $10 for third place.

All winning entries will be submitted to the State Cancer Society poster competition. Deadline for entering the contest will be the third full week of April.

Volume Eases But Market Extends Climb

NEW YORK, March 4 (AP)—The stock market continued its drive ahead today for the fifth straight session.

Steels, motors, and oils were the strongest of the major groups, and they had some excellent scattered support in the list. Railroads were backward as were the coppers, and there was a heavy rash of minus signs outside the leading groups.

There was one significant development—the volume of business diminished markedly today to 2,770,000 shares as compared with 3,330,000 shares traded yesterday.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks gained 40 cents at $162.60, a new high for the average for the fourth straight day. All of the gain was concentrated in the industrial component. It was up 90 cents at a new high of $220.70. Railroads and utilities remained unchanged.

The market wasn't very broad with 1,229 individual issues traded of which 520 advanced and 447 declined with 99 new highs and 2 new lows for 1954-55 established.

The American Stock Exchange was mostly higher on volume of 1,330,000 shares as compared with 1,360,000 shares traded yesterday.

Higher stocks included Brazilian Traction, Calvan Oil, Creole Petroleum, Electric Bond & Share, and International Petroleum.

Lower were Consolidated Mining, Humble Oil, Niles-Bement-Pond and Penroad Corp.

Bonds were mixed. U. S. government issues in the over the counter market were higher.

Elks Lodge Election Set For March 17

NOMINATION of officers highlighted the meeting of East Stroudsburg lodge of Elks this week with George H. Costenbader, exalted ruler in charge. The election will take place at the March 17 session.

Numerous routine matters were taken up and discussed at the meeting attended by 64 members. Favorable reports were received on three applications for membership. Initiation of four candidates will be held at the next meeting.

The Past Exalted Rulers' Assn. of the lodge met this week when Graydon D. Hoffman was elected president, B. K. Williams vice president and John H. Hauser secretary.

The bowlers will be busy this weekend. A team will go to Bangor and compete with representatives of that lodge tonight. Sunday afternoon two teams motor to Phillipsburg, N. J., to meet teams of the Elks lodge there. Sunday, March 13, the round robin match will be held on the alleys of the East Stroudsburg lodge.

Following the meeting this week movies were shown and luncheon was served.

THE FINAL performance of "Funny-bone Follies" will be held tonight at 8 in the Tannersville High School Auditorium for the benefit of the Pocono Township Fire Company Auxiliary.

This laugh hit, variety show includes local talent of all ages. It will be featured tonight by the selection of various pre-school children of the township to such titles as king, queen prince, princess, duke and duchess. The youngsters have been campaigning for the honors.

Announcements of elections will be made during a big "Coronation" scene. At the time, all the contestants will appear on the stage. Voting will continue until curtain time. Silver trophies have been donated for the winners.

Billy Sebring and Lana Beehler were leading the voting late yesterday afternoon. Close behind were Philip Starnes and Lorie Jean Anglemier, Brian Fause and Nancy Brader.

Mary H. Scott, head of the high school music department, will play selections for the show and her glee club will sing two numbers.

Adults and children are invited to attend the affair. Tickets may be purchased from any member of the fire company or at the box office.

The first prize is $500 and second $250 for national winners. The outstanding state entries will be presented $50 with $25 given for second prize in state competition.

Entries may be sent to the nearest subordinate Grange lecturer or interested persons may enter by contacting their nearest vocational agriculture instructor.
